Head Coach Rich Fleming

NCAA Division III level.

In his 17th season of coaching the wrestlers at B-W in 2004-2005, Fleming is committed to having championship wrestling at B-W and keeping the Yellow Jackets a power in the Ohio Athletic Conference and at the

Since taking over the program, Fleming has tutored 24 wrestlers to the Division III national tournament, including a national champion. In 10 of the past 11 years, his team has been nationally ranked.

As a wrestler, Fleming learned that it takes hard work to become a champion. His 123-pound Mid-American Conference title while at Miami of Ohio is evidence of that work ethic.

Fleming is a 1963 graduate of Miami of Ohio and earned his master's degree from Cleveland State University in 1985. Prior to coming to B-W he spent 18 years building a powerful program at nearby Parma Senior High School. Fleming is retired as a teacher and has dedicated his time to building the Yellow Jacket program into one of the best in Division III.

In addition, Fleming is assisted by former Yellow Jacket wrestlers and graduates Sean Folk and Max DeLuca. In addition, John Duplay will serve as a volunteer assistant coach.

Max DeLuca, Assistant Coach

W away from wrestling. He began his wrestling career as a junior in 1998-99. As a sophomore (wrestling eligibility) in 1998-99, DeLuca had an 8-5 overall record and battled injuries throughout the season. As a junior in 1999-2000, Max blossomed as one of the top 184 pounders in the OAC. He had a 22-9

Max DeLuca is beginning his fourth season as an assistant coach. He is a recent graduate from B-W in 2001. While at B-W, he spent two years on the wrestling team and played four years of football. DeLuca spent his first two years at B-overall record and placed second at both the OAC Tournament to earn All-OAC honors. In 2000-2001, Max has a 49-26 mark for his career and a team-leading 19-12 overall record with two pins this season. Max's best showing this winter was when he placed second at the Ashland University Invitational. Max was named as the OAC Wrestler of the Week (for the Week of Feb. 5). He won the 184-pound title at the 15th Annual John Summa Invitational Tournament. In addition to wrestling, DeLuca was a successful football player.

As a freshman in 1996, Max saw action at the junior varsity level at running back and earned a varsity letter as the varsity punter. Max finished third in the Ohio Athletic Conference with a 37.7 yard average per punt. As a sophomore in 1997, Max saw action on the varsity level both as a running back and punter. At RB, Max carried the ball 20 times for 85 yards (4.3 average per carry) with a long run of 16 yards. As the punter, Max averaged 34.5 yards per punt in 49 attempts. In 1998, Max averaged 37.8 yards per punt, with a long of 54 yards. Max had his best season as a college punter in 1999. He averaged 40.0 yards per punt in 56 attempts and earned second-team All-OAC honors. His season-long punt of 58 yards was one yard off his career-high of 59 which he set as a sophomore. Max named third-team Football Gazette All-North Region and as a USAIII Division III honorable mention Special Teams All-American.

Sean Folk, Assistant Coach

Sean Folk is beginning his third year as an assistant coach and his fourth overall. He graduated from Baldwin-Wallace in 1996 and was a four-year letterwinner in wrestling. Folk started his career wrestling in the 150 and 158-pound weight class and finished with a 20-19 individual record including three pins. His best performance of his freshman season was a second place finish at the Claude Sharer Tournament hosted by Case Western Reserve University. He also placed in the top five in four other events. As a team, Folk and the Yellow Jackets finished fourth in the conference was ranked as high as 18th in the country.

As a sophomore, Folk went 17-13 on the year before moving up to the 158 and 167-pound weight class as a junior and posted an 8-15 individual record with two pins.

During his senior season, he had a 20-14 individual record wrestling in the 177-pound weight class. He served as a team captain and qualified for the NCAA Division III National Tournament.

Folk ended his wrestling career with two 20-win seasons and finished with a 65-61 individual record.

After graduation, he spent a year as an assistant coach before leaving the program. Folk returned to his alma mater and wrestling two years ago as an assistant coach.

Yellow Jacket Wrestling Team Finishes Fourth at OAC Championships; Two B-W Wrestlers Qualify for NCAA National Tourney

BEREA, OHIO — The Baldwin-Wallace College wrestling team finished fourth of seven schools at the 2005 Ohio Athletic Conference Wrestling Championship Tournament in Wilmington, Ohio and host Wilmington College at the Fred Raizk Arena. Yellow Jacket senior 165-pounder Joe Heiland (Shelby) and junior 197-pounder Devin Carman (Ashtabula/Geneva) each won individual weight class titles and qualified for the NCAA Division III National Championship Tournament next weekend.

The Yellow Jackets had 43.5 points and qualified three wrestlers to the finals with Heiland and Carman winning individual titles and earning a trip next weekend to Northfield, Minn. and to St. Olaf College for the NCAA tourney. Junior 285-pounder Bryan Kmetz (Brunswick) also advanced to the finals, but did not win his championship match. All three wrestlers also earn All-OAC honors for their performances during the tournament. Overall, it was an outstanding effort by Head Coach Rich Fleming's Yellow Jackets.

Heiland entered the tournament as the top-seed and defeated Andy Keller of Muskingum College in the first round, 7-3, and Cody Apperson of Wilmington College, 7-3, in the semi finals. In the championship match, Heiland beat second-seeded Doug Jones of Mount Union College, 4-3. Heiland will take a 13-5 record to the national event. He is 75-23 in his four-year career. This is Heiland's second OAC-Championship title at the 165-pound weight class. He also won a title as a sophomore during the 2003 season and finished as a runner-up in the same weight class last year.

Carman, who is currently ranked seventh in Division III in the latest Adidas-Brute National Wrestling Coaches Association rankings, also entered the tournament as the top seed in the 197-pound weight class. Carman got to the championship match by defeating Chris Hart of Mount Union in his first match, 13-3, and fourth-seeded Brian Lichty of Heidelberg College in the semifinals 9-1. Carman then defeated second-seeded Chris Bailey of Ohio Northern University, 10-2, to win his first OAC individual championship. He was also a runner up in the 197-

Junior Devin Carman (Ashtabula/Geneva) won his first OAC Championship at 197-pounds in 2004-2005. He also qualified for the NCAA National Tournament for the first time in his career. This is Heiland's second OAC-Championship title at the 165-pound weight class as a freshman. Carman will take a team-leading 26-3 record to the national event. He is 60-13 in his three-year career.

Kmetz entered the tournament seeded third. He received a first-round bye and then defeated second-seeded Jeremy Clingner of Wilmington in the semifinals, 9-5. In the championship match, Kmetz was pinned by top-seeded Derek Ankney of John Carroll in a time of 6:26. He ends the 2004-2005 season with a 21-6 record and is 49-11 in his two-year career. Last year, Kmetz was a runner-up in the 285-pound weight class in his first season as a Yellow Jacket wrestler.

Senior 165-pounder Joe Heiland (Shelby) was the 2004-2005 OAC 165-pound Champion for the second time in his career. He also made his second appearance in the NCAA Division III National Tournament this season.

Carman Earns All-American Honors and Places Eighth at the 2005 NCAA Division III Wrestling National Tourney at St. Olaf (Minn.)

BEREA, OHIO — Baldwin-Wallace College junior 197-pounder Devin Carman (Ashtabula/Geneva) earned

Devin Carman led the Yellow Jackets with a 28-5 record and was a perfect 6-0 in Ohio Athletic Conference dual matches.

All-American honors and placed eighth at the 2005 NCAA Division III National Wrestling Championships at St. Olaf (Minn.) College. Senior 165-pounder Joe Heiland (Shelby) also competed and went 1-2 on the weekend.

Carman, the Ohio Athletic Conference champ at 197 pounds, lost in his first match to top-seeded Akeem Carter of Wartburg (Iowa), 9-3. He then defeated Thomas Sanders of local Case Western Reserve University, 11-0 and seventh-seeded Silver Oghayore of Norwich, 6-4. Carman was pinned by fifth-seeded Justin Sorensen of Augsburg, in 2:59. He took on eighth-seeded Mike McCabe of Coe and lost 3-2 to place eighth. Carman ends his season with a 26-5 record and his career mark now stands at 60-15.

Heiland, a two-time OAC champ at 165 pounds who made his second appearance at the national tourney, lost his first match to second-seeded Nick Ammerman of the University of Wisconsin at LaCrosse, 7-3. He won against seventh-seeded Cole Williams of Dubuque, 6-3, in the consolation bracket. He then lost to John Dolan of Williams, 4-3. Heiland ended this season with a 14-8 overall and had a 76-26 career mark.

The Ohio Athletic Conference; the third oldest conference in the nation Entering its 102nd year, the Ohio Athletic Conference will look to continue its prominence during the 2004-05 year. In 2003-2004, the OAC was once again represented well at the national level, both academically and athletically.

During the 2003-04 season the OAC advanced 11 teams to the NCAA Division III "Sweet 16", including Wilmington College winning the National Title in women's basketball. Mount Union College finished runner-up in football and the John Carroll University men's basketball squad finished third. Three teams finished in the "Elite Eight" at the NCAA's: Ohio Northern University in volleyball, Muskingum College in softball and Wilmington in indoor track and field; and five teams ended their seasons in the "Sweet 16": Baldwin-Wallace College in football, Wilmington in women's soccer, JCU in men's soccer and wrestling and Otterbein College in men's golf. Individually, Mount Union's Eddis Singleton and Wilmington's Emily Herring both became national champions in their respective events, the 50-yard freestyle in swimming and the high jump in track and field.

Individually, the Conference was represented by 56 All-Americans, 32 men and 24 women, and 13 Academic All-Americans to go along with a bevy of regional and national honors for our student-athletes and coaches. The Conference also had an athlete earn CoSIDA Academic All-America Team Member-of-the-Year honors in her respective sport.

The OAC, the third oldest conference in college athletics, is predated only by the Michigan Intercollegiate Athletic Association (1888) and the Big Ten (1895). The Conference is older than the World Series and even the NCAA itself and has survived two world wars, the Great Depression, the Korean War and the Vietnam Conflict. From a modest beginning of six charter members in 1902, the OAC grew to as many as 24 members in the mid-1920s.

Through the years a total of 30 colleges and universities at one time or another have been members of the OAC. Currently the Conference consists of 10 members, including Baldwin-Wallace College, Capital University, Heidelberg College, John Carroll University, Marietta College, Mount Union College, Muskingum College, Ohio Northern University, Otterbein College and Wilmington College. Wilmington became the 31st OAC member school, on July 1, 2000.

In the OAC's first year of existence, 1902, the first Conference champion was crowned. Case Tech won the football title with a 5-0-0 record. Outdoor track was added a year later and a third sport, cross country, became a Conference sport in 1914. More sports were steadily added to the OAC's repertoire throughout the years, culminating in the addition of women's sports in 1984. The Conference currently sponsors championships in 21 sports, 11 men's and 10 women's.

The enrollments at the 10 OAC institutions range from 1,200 to 4,500. All of the schools were founded in the 19th century and have long and outstanding academic reputations. While maintaining these high academic standards, Ohio Athletic Conference athletic teams and athletes have consistently enjoyed a great deal of success on a regional and national level. The athletic competition is viewed not as an end in itself, but as an extension of the educational programs.

Wrestling at Baldwin-Wallace College: A Tradition of Excellence

The Baldwin-Wallace College wrestling program has a rich winning tradition in the Ohio Athletic Conference and at the NCAA Division III level. B-W has been solid at the annual OAC Tournament and has sent numerous wrestlers to the NCAA Division III National Championships.

Since coming to Berea 17 years ago, Rich Fleming and his staff have produced one national champion in 177-pounder Kevin Higgins (1988-89) and four All-Americans. The All-Americans are Kelly Keenan, the 1994 national runner-up at 177 pounds; Doug Knight, who placed seventh at 134 pounds in 1994; Dan Hulten, who placed eighth at 158 pounds in 1992; and Kevin Atkins, who placed eighth at 174 pounds in 2000. Overall, 20 Yellow Jacket grapplers have advanced to the NCAA Division III National Championships. In eight of the last 10 years, the Yellow Jacket program has been nationally ranked by the NCAA Division III Coaches Association.

"We wrestle in one of the best conferences in Division III," said Fleming. "Our wrestlers are challenged each week with outstanding competition. It has made us a good Division III program."

The Baldwin-Wallace College wrestling program strives for excellence by asking each student-athlete to be highly dedicated and place the goals of the team ahead of any personal recognition. The ultimate goal of athletics at B-W is to watch each student-athlete grow, mature and graduate at the end of his stay.

Junior T. Terry (Bedford/St. Peter Chanel) recorded 41 takedowns and two pins last season alternating between the 174 and 184-pound weight classes.

Yellow Jacket Sophomore Bryan Kmetz is One of the Top 285-Pounders in Division III

BEREA, OHIO -- Baldwin-Wallace College sophomore 285-pound wrestler Bryan Kmetz, a graduate of Brunswick High School and former Ohio High School Athletic Association state qualifier, thought he'd strapped on his headgear for the last time his senior year of high school.

Kmetz left Brunswick and headed to B-W with no intentions of wrestling. After spending his freshman year at B-W as a spectator, he decided to make a move back to the mat.

"Honestly, I just missed it," said Kmetz. "My real decision to come back into wrestling was because I've been doing it since first grade. When you compete for so long, you really don't appreciate it enough until you are away from it. Not wrestling two tears ago may have been the best thing for me."

One person who is pleased that Kmetz has returned is veteran Yellow Jacket Head Coach Rich Fleming, who has been a head coach for 34 years, 16 at B-W and 18 at Parma Senior High School. "Bryan is a first-class young man and an outstanding wrestler.

"We were hoping that Bryan would wrestle as a freshman but he wanted to make sure he had his feet firmly set in his academics before even thinking about wrestling, and that was fine," said Fleming. "When he finally decided to compete, we knew we had a good one." Good doesn't totally describe what Kmetz had done in his first year at the collegiate level. He led B-W in victories with 28 and finished 28-5 overall with an .848 winning percentage.

Kmetz admits there were challenges getting back into the sport.

"When I started practicing again, I was used to working out so there wasn't much physical agony," said Kmetz, a fitness management major. "But the mental strain of wrestling can be rough. The combination of practices and tournaments does take away from time for schoolwork. However, the satisfaction I get from wrestling outweighs the negatives."

One major positive of Kmetz's decision was his contribution to the B-W team. With the graduation of Greg Hartlaub in 2003, Kmetz's comeback filled a large void in the Yellow Jacket roster. Hartlaub, the 2003 Ohio Athletic Conference heavyweight champion and NCAA national qualifier, was a four-year starter.

What began as Kmetz's desire to return to competition, has quickly evolved into championship performances by a first-year starter. Kmetz went 4-0 to claim the heavyweight title at the Rochester Institute of Technology Tournament on December 6, 2003 in Rochester New York. In the championship match, Kmetz defeated cross-town rival Derek Ankney of John Carroll with a score of 8-6.

"So far my best moment has been winning the RIT tournament," said Kmetz. "It was my first college tournament and I never expected to do that well."

In addition, Kmetz fared well at last season's Division III National Dual Match Championships at Lycoming College in Williamsport Pennsylvania. At the National Duals, he compiled a 3-0 record and helped the Yellow Jackets win one of their four matches.

"Bryan wrestled well at the National Duals," said Fleming. "We had a relatively young team (two seniors among the 22 team members), and Bryan was one of a number of talented young members of the team a year ago. He continues to dominate Division III competition and has solidified our lineup."

Having Kmetz at 285 pounds was a key to B-W finishing the 2003-2004 season 6-7 overall and 3-3 in the Ohio Athletic Conference.

"In 2002-2003, we had an outstanding heavyweight (285-pounder) in Greg Hartlaub of Avon Lake," said Fleming. "Greg won the OAC title and advanced to the Division III National Tournament. When he graduated, we needed someone of quality to fill that void. Bryan has certainly filled that void and more."

Kmetz feels that because wrestling is an individual sport, it has helped him. He wants to be in control of his own destiny. By working individually and independently, he is in control of how well he can do as well as his ability to help his team.

"I like wrestling because I know that when I win a match, it's because of me and the work I put in," said Kmetz. "I alone won the match, but I'm helping the team too. The same goes for losing, it's my fault, but I'm also affecting the team as a whole."

Fleming also feels that the individuality of the sport helps a person like Kmetz.

"Bryan is very self-motivated," said Fleming. "He works extremely hard and he is his biggest critic. Bryan is constantly seeking ways to get better and works hard to make changes that will make him better. He puts forth the effort that leads to winning championships. We have been very proud of Bryan, both the way he has wrestled and by the way he has helped to lead by-example."

Kmetz added, "Winning keeps me motivated. The thought of wrestling at nationals is a great motivator as well. It would be the greatest thing for our team to make an impact at the national tournament."

"Bryan will have a definite shot at getting to the nationals in the upcoming season," said Fleming. "In the OAC, you must win your weight class to qualify, and Bryan has shown that he is one of the top 285-pounders in the OAC."

"Bryan knows that his opportunity to compete at the national tournament," said Fleming. "He has the talent and ability."

"Without a doubt, my biggest role model has been my dad," said Kmetz. "He wasn't a wrestler but his work ethic has influenced me to go 110 percent all the time and in doing whatever I am doing. He taught me that you get out of something what you put into it."

"I want to also thank my dad and my family for coming to all my matches, every year, no matter the location," continued Kmetz. "My family came to RIT and to Lycoming and Elmhurst. That support makes a big difference."

With such a successful season as a first-year grappler, Kmetz remains focused on the three seasons ahead of him.

"During the off-season, I plan on lifting, putting on as many lbs. as possible and coming back bigger and stronger in 2004-2005," said Kmetz.

Baldwin-Wallace Freshman Wrestler Gino Russo is Already Having Success at the Collegiate Level

By: Matthew Florjancic, Staff Writer

BEREA, OHIO —Unfortunately for the Baldwin-Wallace College wrestling team, injuries forced 17-year veteran coach Rich Fleming to rely on the younger members of his team this past winter. One of the first-year grapplers that Fleming is counting on is Northfield Center resident and Nordonia graduate Gino Russo.

But despite the worries, Fleming, a resident of Sagamore Hills and the former 20-year head coach at Parma Senior High School is undaunted.

"Gino is experienced for his age," said Fleming, who is the second winningest wrestling coach in B-W history, only behind Cleveland wrestling legend John Summa. "Gino had a solid high school career, so when we began to experience a lot of preseason injury problems, I knew I could rely on Gino right from the start.

"We began the season with some of our veteran folks injured," continued Fleming. "I think it is great that Gino came out and wrestled strong."

Russo, a 19 year-old, began in wrestling while in junior high school.

"I started competing in wrestling in the seventh grade," said Russo, who is majoring in business administration and accounting. "My brother was a freshman at St. Peter Chanel (in Bedford) and I just got interested in wrestling."

Russo took this early love for the sport into high school where he was a star performer and a record-setter at Nordonia. He was a four-year letterman, four-year District qualifier and set a Knight school-record for career victories. During his senior year, he placed third in the preseason National Tournament, qualified at the Senior National Tournament and was a first-team All Western Reserve Conference selection.

Even though Russo did well, he felt like there was more he could have accomplished.

"I was improving season by season," Russo stated, who ended high prep career with 110 career victories. "Then, my senior year, I was stopped by some injuries and I didn't get to do as well as I had hoped. It left me with a feeling that I still need to accomplish more."

That is something that Fleming has noticed.

"Gino has so much ability and a great deal of room to get better and better," said Fleming, who has coached 34 Yellow Jacket grapplers to the NCAA Division III National Tournament during his career. "Gino has great natural ability and is extremely strong. We feel that he is going to be an outstanding Division III competitor."

When Russo came to B-W, he noticed there was a major difference between the high school and college levels.

"Every match you have to come out at the top of your game because you're not going to face an opponent like you would in high school," said Russo. "Every opponent is talented and has the ability to beat you if you are not at the top of your game. Many have competed at the state level in high school. You can underestimate anyone."

Russo has noticed that the level of competition is more challenging but he feels that he can get more time in working on his skills to improve himself in college than he could in high school.

"It's a lot easier to go and workout whenever you want," said Russo. "It's [the gym is] always right outside your door. You need to be committed and have the desire to get better. Wrestling is an individual sport, so it is up to you to help yourself as much as possible."

So, what are Russo's individual goals in wrestling while at B-W.

"I want to be an OAC champion and I want to be an All-American before I graduate," said Russo.

After his first season as a Yellow Jacket, Russo has helped his team. In the 157-pound weight class, he posted a 13-13 overall record, including a perfect 3-0 mark at the season-opening Case Western Reserve University Quad Meet when he beat opponents from CWRU, Waynesburg (Pa.) and another from the College of Mount St. Joseph. His 13 wins was fourth most on the team behind junior 174-pounder T. Terry (Bedford/ St. Peter Chanel) with 16.

"We are a very young team," said Fleming, "and Gino is just one of a number of talented young wrestlers in our program. "Like many of his teammates, Gino has a lot of room to get better."

Freshman 157-pounder Gino Russo (Northfield Center/Nordonia) made an immediate impact for the Yellow Jackets in 2004-2005. He finished fourth on the team in wins with 13 and posted a 13-13 overall record.

Coach Rich Fleming is happy with the success of Russo and is also not surprised.

"I'm not surprised that Gino has started out strong," said Fleming. "This summer he was successful in an Open Tournament in Virginia Beach (Va.), and at the high school Senior National Tournament right here in Cleveland, he won three matches. So, I knew he was a good, quality wrestler."

Russo's teammates have taken notice of the freshman and are happy to see him doing well.

"Gino is really effective on his feet," said senior 149-pounder Scott Conrath of St. Clairsville. "He can take an opponent's offensive move, counter it, and make him pay. He has been a great addition to our team."

"He's always aware of what he's doing out there," said Terry. "He makes sure he puts himself in the right situations. He uses his intelligence, experience and talent to be successful. He has the talent and ability to be very good at this level and in the OAC."

Though Russo has experienced success so far, his coach and teammates feel that he can improve his style to make himself an even tougher opponent.

"He needs to keep listening, keep learning and has to keep working harder in the weightroom to get stronger," said Fleming. "He has those great works habits. So, as a coach, you know he will just get better and better because he will work harder and harder."

The Facilities at Baldwin-Wallace College Are Among

The Baldwin-Wallace College student is afforded the opportunity to learn, exercise, practice and play in some of the finest facilities in small college athletics. In addition, as a student at B-W, each has an opportunity to use a group of facilities that are unparalleled in Division III athletics.

The Recreation Center with the Ursprung Gymnasium, Harrison Dillard Track and Natatorium, The George Finnie Stadium, the B-W Baseball Field, the "Pop" Collins Tennis Complex and other outdoor recreation and athletic areas at Baldwin-Wallace make the Yellow Jackets physical plant second to none among small colleges.

The Baldwin-Wallace College Recreation Center, dedicated on October 18, 1986, is a facility that benefits all B-W students, faculty, staff and alumni and is considered one of the top recreation facilities in the country.

The 150,000 square foot Rec Center serves as home for the health and physical education departments, all winter intercollegiate and intramural sports, as well as playing host for a number of amateur sporting events.

The Rec Center, which includes the Rudolph S. Ursprung Gymnasium, serves as the home of Yellow Jackets basketball, volleyball and wrestling teams. Ursprung Gymnasium, which has housed B-W basketball since 1949, received a complete renovation in 1986. In addition to B-W playing in the Ursprung Gym, the Ohio High School Athletic Association has long courts that can be used individually or in tandem for volleyball, basketball, tennis and other activities. On many occasions, the B-W basketball team has been playing a game while a wrestling match or an intramural basketball game was taking place in used the B-W facility for its sectional and district tournaments for boys.

The fieldhouse consists of a 200-meter, six-lane track that is named for 1949 B-W graduate and four-time Olympic gold medalist Harrison Dillard. The track, with its Mondo surface, is both fast and comfortable for the walker, jogger or serious runner. Pits for the field events are also incorporated. The track surrounds three multi-purpose the Rec Center fieldhouse.

The Harrison Dillard Track, along with the multi-purpose courts, have been home for the B-W indoor track teams, the John Summa Invitational Wrestling Tournament, the Ohio Sports Festival (basketball and wrestling venues) and many local high school track meets.

Also in the Rec Center is the B-W Natatorium, home to the Yellow Jacket

The Baldwin-Wallace College Natatorium is home to Yellow Jacket swimming and diving. The pool is also available to all B-W students and receives use by the community and elderly.

The Harrison Dillard Track in the B-W Fieldhouse is a six-lane, 200-meter oval that has served as the site of many B-W, OAC, high school and amateur championship meets.

the Best for Any Small College in the Country

In 1998 The George Finnie Stadium was filled with more than 10,000 fans to watch the Yellow Jackets play football. It is known as the "Magic Carpet." It has also served as the site for five Division III national track meets, the Pan Am Games qualifying meet, the Ohio Games and the A.A.U. Junior Olympic championships. It seats 8,100 fans comfortably.

swimming and diving teams. The facility includes a 25-yard, six-lane pool with a one-meter diving board. The movable pool bottom has adaptive physical therapy applications and can be used by the disabled.

As part of the renovation of Ursprung, chairback seating and a new media center were constructed while training and physical therapy, laundry and eight locker rooms were added. Other features include a room for news media as well as exhibit and storage areas for the B-W Athletic Archives. The Archives give students, alumni, parents, friends and visitors to Baldwin-Wallace a glimpse of the rich tradition and heritage of Yellow Jacket teams and athletic greats.

The Finnie Stadium (pictured above) is one of the nations best small college stadiums for football and track and field. The Yellow Jacket men's and women's soccer teams also play at Finnie.

B-W has already hosted three NCAA Division III national championship track meets, numerous NCAA and Ohio High School Athletic Association football play-off games as well as being the home field to both Berea High School and Middleburg Heights Midpark High School. The Ohio Sports Festival/Ohio State Games also uses Finnie as both a regional and state championship site.

The B-W Baseball Field is located on the campus within walking distance of the student dormitories. The facility has a manicured playing surface and seating for approximately 200 fans. The B-W Baseball Field has been the host site for four OAC Baseball Tournaments and is home to the nationally-ranked Yellow Jacket baseball squad.

The "Pop" Collins Tennis complex is named in honor of former B-W tennis coach and teacher Arthur Worth Collins, the father of nationally renowned sportswriter and television tennis analyst Arthur "Bud" Collins '51. The facility is on campus and includes six courts which are lighted for night play.

In addition, the Yellow Jacket softball team plays at the Cuyahoga County Fairgrounds Field. Last spring was the first season for the Yellow Jackets at their new field.

Does such a strong group of facilities benefit the Yellow Jacket women's basketball program? Definitely! Practice time is available in the Ursprung Gym or the fieldhouse. That means the men and women can practice at the same time without conflict. Players have a wide variety of options for preseason and post season weight and conditioning programs.

"The entire Rec Center is a plus to our program," says head coach Cheri Harrer. "The playing, practice and dress facilities are among the finest in Division III. Having a number of courts in the fieldhouse gives us the opportunity to work with a greater number of players in our varsity and junior varsity programs.

"It is one of the finest training centers of any small college in the nation," says Harrer. "We feel the Rec Center has answered the needs of the B-W community."

The student-athlete is afforded the best in equipment to use in B-W's weight and training rooms. B-W also benefits from its affiliation with the Cleveland Clinic Sports Medicine Division. A clinic doctor is at virtually every athletic event.

Baldwin-Wallace College;

A Quality Education With A Personal Touch"

Applying to Baldwin-Wallace

Admission to B-W is offered on a selective basis. Each application is reviewed independently on its own merits, with careful consideration of course work, class rank, grade point averages, recommendations, test results (SAT or ACT) and extracurricular activities. To apply for admission, we encourage you to complete the application between September and March of your senior year.

A good high school preparation for B-W includes four years of English, and at least three years of math, social science and natural science, two years of foreign language, and three years of additional academic electives.

Candidates are considered as soon as all application requirements have been met, with notification usually within four to six weeks after their credentials are received.

An Exceptional Value

B-W is committed to making college affordable. In fact, your chances of receiving some form of financial assistance at B-W are excellent. Nearly two-thirds of our current students receive B-W need-based aid; and more than 90 percent receive assistance in some form.

Your first step in the financial aid process is to complete the F.A.F.S.A. (Free Application for Federal Student Aid). This should be completed no later than March 1st. After you have been admitted to B-W and the F.A.F.S.A. report has been received and processed, you will receive your award. Typically this will consist of gift assistance (need-based grant and scholarship), low interest federal loans and work study employment.

The Baldwin-Wallace College wrestling student-athlete is one of the best publicized in all of small college and NCAA Division III athletics. Several factors help this to happen.

Its location, its national and conference affiliation and philosophy of athletics, its administration and coaches and its support of the student-athlete all play large roles in telling others about B-W and the successes of its student-athletes.

Baldwin-Wallace College is a small, private, liberal arts college located 12 miles southwest of Cleveland, Ohio. While being in the small and progressive local community of Berea, B-W student-athletes benefit from being close to a major urban area such as Greater Cleveland/Akron. B-W athletics receive support both in Cleveland and Akron and in the Berea community itself.

Being a member of the prestigious Ohio Athletic Conference and playing NCAA Division III athletics also is an advantage. Coaches who are teachers first forge a solid commitment to the Division III philosophy of the student-athlete. Baldwin-Wallace also is proud of its athletic heritage and the fact that it has produced 54 College Division Academic All-Americans since 1972. A year ago, B-W had two Academic All-Americans: football student-athlete Joe Harbour (Upper Sandusky, Ohio) and softball student-athlete Nicole Loudin (Sheffield Lake, Ohio).

"We feel that athletics participation is a part of the educational experience of our student-athletes, not apart from it," said Baldwin-Wallace College President Mark H. Collier.

"We are extremely proud of the success of our athletics programs and our student-athletes."

In 2003, Matt Kish, a football student-athlete attained the highest grade point average in the senior class and was awarded the Milton T. Baldwin Prize at graduation.

Support in terms of facilities, equipment and transportation and in staff provides the Baldwin-Wallace student-athlete with a luxury not enjoyed at many other schools.

One part of that support is in the area of sports information. A diligent staff of B-W sport information student assistants and sport management majors work with the director to publicize B-W and its coaches and student-athletes in 20 NCAA Division III sports.

The students learn first-hand about publicizing a program by updating the internet website, writing hometown press releases and doing feature stories, doing game and cumulative statistics as well as statistical analysis, game and special event programs, recruiting brochures and media guides, contacting local, state and national media sources prior to and after each game and promoting and administering special events during athletic contests.

Each Yellow Jacket wrestling student-athlete receives a preseason, mid-season and postseason hometown press release which is sent to the individual student-athlete hometown newspaper. When the student-athletes fill out a preseason questionnaire, each is asked to list his or her hometown newspaper.

After each wrestling meet, the internet website is updated, a FAX is sent to B-W's base of local, state and national media that regularly cover or have requested B-W coverage. In addition, hometown facsimile messages about individual performances are also sent either the night of the contest or the next day.

The day following an athletic event, statistics are updated and made available to all requesting the information.

Campus radio station WBWC, 88.3 FM, broadcasts all home and away football and basketball games as well as covering all other Yellow Jacket sporting events, press conferences or announcements on a selected basis. All Yellow Jacket men's and women's basketball games are also broadcast over the internet website at www.bw.edu/athletics. A number of former B-W student broadcasters have gone to successful careers in the Greater Cleveland area, both in radio and in television. In addition, the four local commercial television stations and numerous radio stations do game coverage and feature interviews on a selected basis.

The Baldwin-Wallace College student-athlete receives excellent local small college coverage both in terms of game coverage and hometown coverage by The Plain Dealer (Cleveland's major daily with a circulation of more than 500,000 homes), the Chronicle-Telegram (based in Elyria, Ohio), the Morning Journal (based in Lorain, Ohio), the Beacon-Journal (based in Akron, Ohio), the Medina County Gazette (based in Medina, Ohio), the Sun Newspapers (Cleveland's largest weekly newspaper serving the Greater Cleveland area) and a number of other daily and weekly publications in Northeast Ohio.

Overall, the sports information office at Baldwin-Wallace College offers the student-athlete the opportunity to receive maximum exposure at the small college level. In addition to giving the Yellow Jacket student-athlete the most comprehensive coverage available at the NCAA Division III level, the B-W sports information student assistant garners solid skills in writing, communications, marketing, promotion and publication layout and design. Overall, 14 former SID student assistants have gone on to sports information careers at either the NCAA Division I and I-AA level such as the University of Texas, Arizona State University, the University of Nebraska, the University of Arkansas, the University of Florida, Monmouth (N.J.), Kent State University, Eastern Michigan University and others. Others are involved with professional teams such as the Kansas City Chiefs of the NFL and the Cleveland Force of the MISL.
