Preq: Six hours of literature (ENG 126F,127F,128F, or one of the former and one of ENG-2411F,2421F,250F,2811F, or the equivalent in transferred credits).            Core Academic Skill: W            Core Academic Skill: P            Preq: 6 hours of literature at 100 or 200 level.            The contemporary American short story takes the reader into familiar-seeming settings and then makes those places strange and new. In this class, our destinations include George Saunder's satirical amusement parks and Kelly Link's zombie-infested convenience stores. We will stomp around in these locations to examine what these stories say about American literature and also American life. We will read and examine approximately seven short-story collections, we will investigate the theme and style of these diverse works, and we will supply critical and creative written responses to the texts.

	Core Academic Skill: W            Core Academic Skill: E            NEW!! This is a travel course that will go to England over Spring Break 2007 from March 2-12. This course is an exploration of urban history in England. To that end, each student will choose one of the cities which the class will be visiting (i.e. London, Canterbury, Bath, or Cambridge) and conduct research on that city. Each student will be expected to choose one facet of historical research about their chosen city (i.e., founding, architecture, economic importance, royal connection, etc.) and, with the professor's assistance, find sources to answer those questions. To facilitate the research portion of the trip, the professor will be taking students to research facilities (the British Museum and the Public Record Office) to acquaint them with the process of historical research.
