On-Campus Housing

Limited on-campus housing is available on a first-come, first-served basis. Participants who wish to stay on the campus of Baldwin Wallace University will be housed in the newly remodeled suite-style living of Davidson Commons. Davidson has study lounges, a large glass walled atrium for studying and a common kitchen on each level. The halls use geo-exchange technology, which is eco-friendly and allows individual room heating and cooling. Another eco-friendly feature of Davison Commons is a large outdoor green space with sustainable elements including native plantings and a butterfly garden.

Attendees will have a private bedroom (with 2 twin beds) that opens into a shared living space with 2-3 other Institute attendees and a shared bathroom that has a few shower stalls and toilet stalls. Linens and breakfast, lunch and dinner on campus are included. The dormitory is located in between the Union dining hall and the Conservatory, a short walk to all three.

On-Campus Housing Rate: $75 per night / per person (this includes linens as well as breakfast, lunch and dinner), plus a $5 administrative fee.

Reservations for the on-campus housing can be made with the online LoVetri Institute registration. Further details such as arrival and departure dates, and payment will be collected in late-March.

Participants who choose to stay on campus may move in as early as July 21, 2017. Participants must check-out by Monday, July 31, 2017.
