

Master of Public Health Program

Curriculum and Course Schedule 2022-2025

The Master of Public Health curriculum, offered in partnership with The MetroHealth System, is designed as a part-time master's program for working adults. Students complete an average of 6 credits a semester. The program's HyFlex model allows students to interact online or in person, synchronously or asynchronously. For those choosing in person or online synchronous sessions, classes meet nine alternate weekends during the semester for four hours on Friday (5-9 p.m.) and four hours on Saturday (8 a.m.-12 noon). Those taking the program asynchronously can complete their class anytime in the period between classes.
