Students enrolling in this program use a variety of options to cover the costs. If you don't have personal savings or other outside resources, it is important to know that you can cover the entire cost of the MS Speech-Language Pathology Program – as well as miscellaneous and living expenses -- with Federal Direct Student Loans and Grad PLUS Loans. These loans are available through the Federal Financial Aid Program by filing the FAFSA. Directions for completing the FAFSA: <https://www.bw.edu/one-stop/finances/financial-aid/apply/>.

Federal Direct Student Loan

Unsubsidized Federal Direct Student Loans (FDSL) are available to students who have completed the Free Application for Federal Student Aid or FAFSA. Eligibility is not based on financial need. For this two-year program, students may potentially be eligible for $41,000 ($20,500 per year) in FDSL, depending on the student's current aggregate loan debt that includes loans already used for courses at the graduate level. FDSL eligibility is unsubsidized for graduate students, meaning that interest accrues during in-school, grace period and deferment. Interest accruing during these periods may be paid or capitalized. There are several repayment options, with repayment beginning six months after the student has graduated or is no longer enrolled in the program, and the repayment period is up to 10 years.

Grad PLUS Loan

Students may choose the Grad PLUS Loan to cover any remaining direct program costs (BW tuition) left after the FDSL, as well living expenses and miscellaneous non-program costs (considered cost of attendance). Beyond program costs, the Grad PLUS Loan will cover up to $20,000 in miscellaneous and living expenses annually. The FAFSA is required for this loan, in addition to a credit-based application. The Grad PLUS Loan requires that students do not have an adverse credit history. If you have an adverse credit history, you may still receive a PLUS Loan by obtaining an endorser (cosigner). Graduate PLUS Loans carry a fixed interest rate and repayments begin as soon as the last disbursement of the loan is made, but they can be deferred until after graduation. Note that a loan origination fee of 4.2% is deducted from the amount you borrow, so allow for this when determining the total Grad PLUS Loan you will need.

* Our SLP students are usually eligible for the maximum annual amount of $20,500 in FDSL. This could be less if your current aggregate loan debt includes loans already used for courses at the graduate level. To check your student loan borrowing, go to <https://studentaid.gov/h/manage-loans>.

Billing

Initial bills for each new semester will be made available to the student in March, July, and November. The student has 30 days to pay their bill, after which time a finance charge will be added to any unpaid portion of the bill. Finance charges are not assessed to students enrolled in good standing in a payment plan.

Payment Plan

Baldwin Wallace University offers a tuition payment plan as an interest-free way to break down your education expenses into monthly installments. This may be utilized for the entire cost of your financial responsibility, or any portion not met by loan or other resources. The semester payment plan for students includes a processing fee of $35 for each semester.
